13064 - Giving zakaah to an organization so that they will distribute the zakaah to the needy

the question

Is it permissible to give our zakat to the known organization which receive zakat to help the needy people without knowing where they are going to spend ?

Detailed answer

Praise be to Allah.

If you take of it yourself and give it directly to one who is entitled to it according to your understanding, then you will be sure that it has gone to the right place. If you agree to give it to someone whom you trust to dispose of it in the manner prescribed in Islam, this is also permissible.

Fataawa al-Lajnah al-Daa’imah, 9/457

Shaykh Ibn Baaz said: If the people who are doing that are trustworthy and honest, and will dispose of the zakaah in the ways prescribed in sharee’ah, then it is OK to give one’s zakaah to them, because this is a way of co-operating in righteousness and piety.

Fataawa al-Shaykh ‘Abd al-‘Azeez ibn Baaz, 3/126 .
